Larkspur Freight Rail

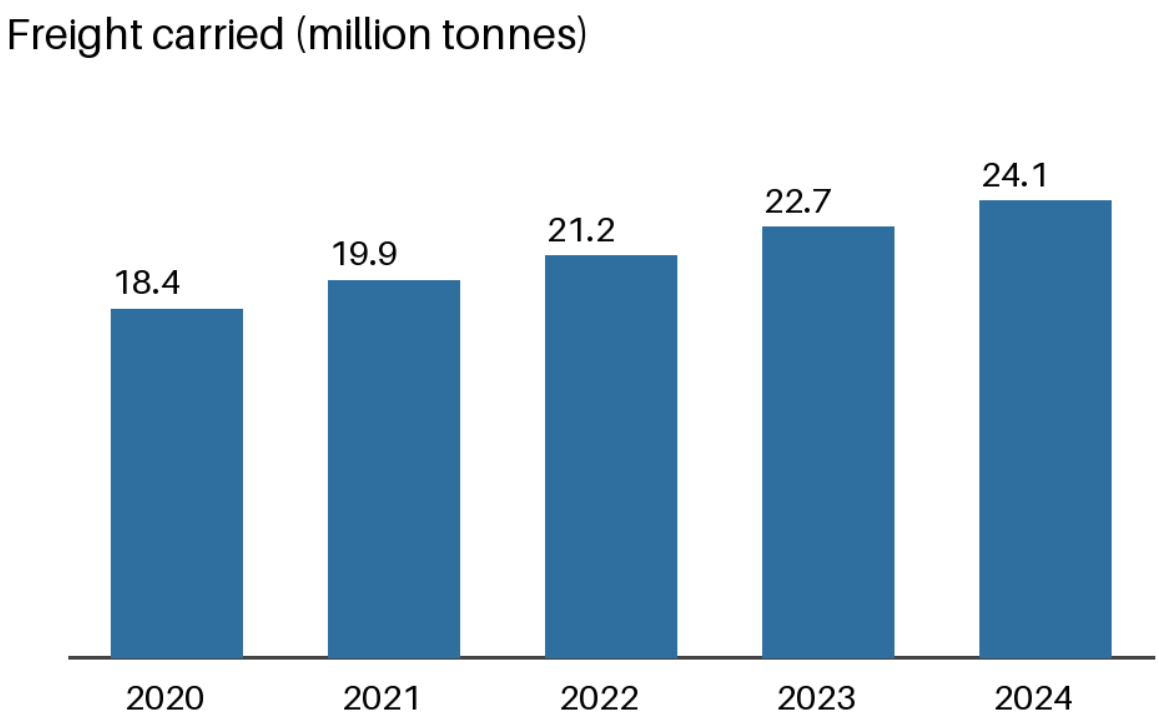

Annual review 2024

Larkspur Freight Rail moves bulk, intermodal, and automotive freight on three corridors: Northern, Coastal, and Prairie. Revenue rose to $412 million in 2024 from $376 million in 2023, and operating income reached $103 million.

This review covers freight volume, revenue by segment, results by corridor, service reliability, and safety. Charts show values for each period.

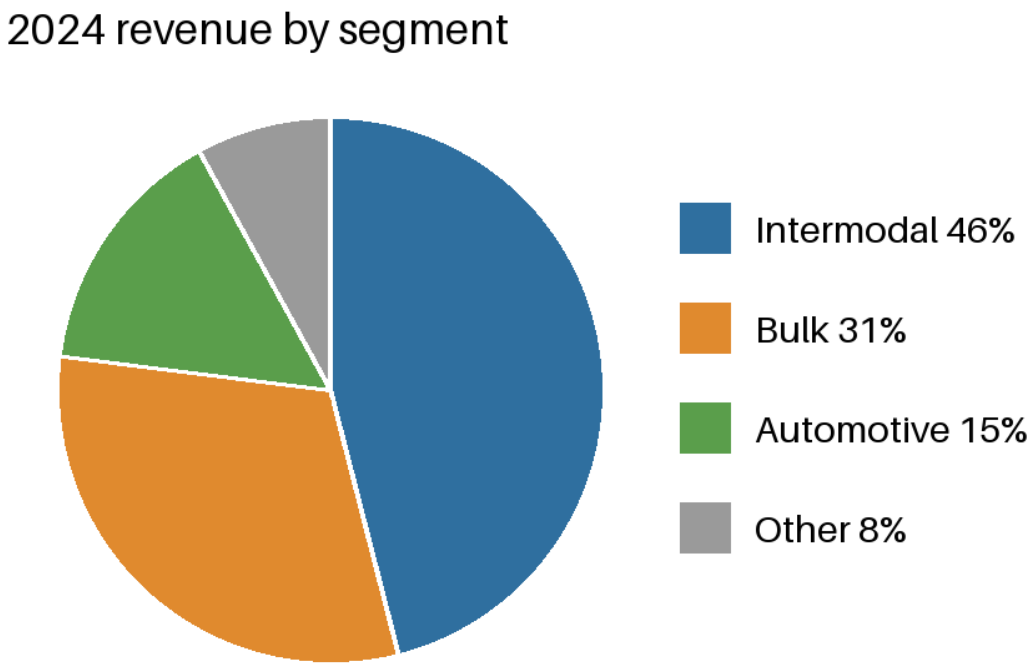

Freight volume

Volume grew in each of the last five years as new intermodal terminals opened on the Northern corridor. The chart shows tonnes carried each year.

Revenue by segment

Intermodal remained the largest segment at 46% of revenue. The chart shows each segment's share of 2024 revenue.

Operating results by corridor

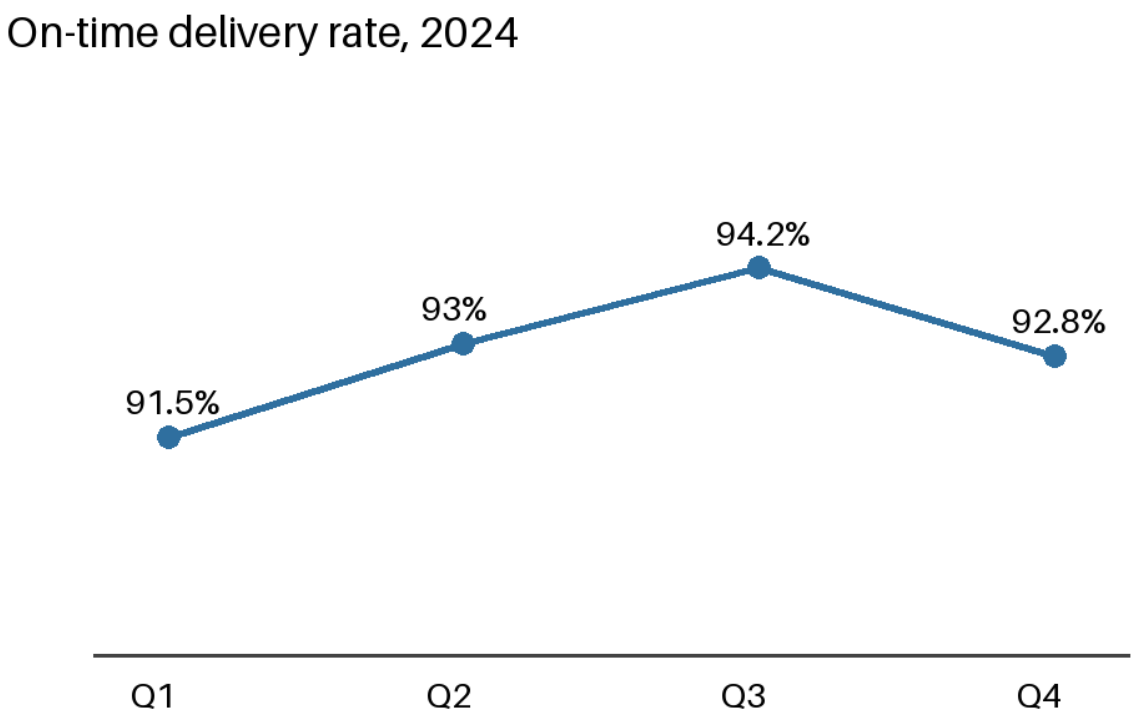

In $ millions, for the years ended December 31.

Corridor	2023 revenue	2024 revenue	2024 operating income
Northern	142	158	41
Coastal	131	139	33
Prairie	103	115	29
Total	376	412	103

The Northern corridor led revenue growth, helped by two new intermodal terminals. Coastal volumes were steady.

Service reliability

On-time delivery measures the share of trains arriving within 30 minutes of schedule. The chart shows the rate for each quarter of 2024.

Safety and risks

Reportable safety incidents fell to 12 in 2024 from 17 in 2023, after crossing upgrades on the Prairie corridor.

The main risks to the business are fuel prices, weather on the Coastal corridor, and the renewal of two long-term intermodal contracts in 2026.
